PHILADELPHIA, PA. October 9.—Masterly pitching by Christy Mathawson, backed up by gill-edged playing of the men behind him, gave the New York National League champions a victory lo-day over the Philadelphia American League, pennant-winners in the first of the series of seven games, for the world's championship. Philadelphia failed to score, Mathewson allowing the home team only four hits, while the New Yorkers manged to score three runs of Plank. Although defeated, Philadelphia played a brilliant game. It was a clean victory for the visitors, the element of luck cutting no figure in the contest.

The meat at our table was so uninviting that one of the captains went over to a neighboring table and brought a platter with six pieces and the head waiter brought a platter with six other ploces. These, with the six at our table, made eighteen slices of indigestible, touch, unpalatable beef, certainly of worse appearance than the meat that we buy at the penitentiary, and certainly none of the eighteen pieces fit to eat.

Now, some one might say that "One swallow does not make a summer," but the swallow in the offing means that summer is approaching, and this one meal that I have taken at the Virginia Millitary Institute firmly convinces me from a medical stand-

If I may be pardoned for a suggestion the bulk of the trouble really lies in the cooking. A good bread cook would help the cause wonderfully, though no good cooking could possibly have helped that beef. That is a matter in which the purchasing aegut, if the institution is culpable. I am not writing this letter in any captious frame of mind. Dr. Upshur, a few nights ago, went over this whole matter carefully with me, and I know is heartily in accord with the proposition that good bread and butter ainst good meats all properly cooked shall be served the boys at the Virginia Military Institute. The fact is he read me some ringing resolutions on the subject that the board had passed at their last meeting. I submit that now the time for resoluting has passed and some action, prompt and vigorous should be taken.

well prepared and reasonably well served. At other times we have had food which was not suitable; the trouble chiefly, in my opinion, is in the preparation of the food—that is, the cooking. I do not doubt that some articles of the food are not of the proper quality, but we have done the best we could to correct it, and I am sure the superintendent has.

For the past twelve months the food, I am sure, has been worse than usual, although it has cost us several thousand dollars more during the year. This is due to the fact that whilst we have a very good man as commissiary now, I think he is not only inexperienced, but douds whather he has the capacity to learn to do such work well. This matter was thoroughly looked into by a committee of the hoard in June. We only re-elected the quartermaster until the 1st of February, and gave him to understand that unless there was great improvement in the conditions he would not be longer retained. I am rather hopeless about him, although he thinks he can de better; from what you write me, it looks as if he is not.

The board will meet again in Lexington on the 20th instant, and this matter, among others, will be considered, and I beg to assure you that the board of visitors and the superintendent are thoroughly alive to the question, and propose to do everything possible to have proper food, properly cooked and served for the cadets, Very truly yours,

EXTRACT. Dr. Carrington's Charges.

The story of the charges made by Dr. Carrington, the reply of Mr. Hamilton and the resolutions passed by the Board of Visitors of V. M. I. are fully set out in the following communication furnished by Dr. Carrington:

Richmond, Va., Sept. 19, 1995.

Hon. Alexander Hamilton, president of the Board of Visitors, Virginia, Military Institute, Petersburg, Va.: Dear Sir.—During last week I spent several days at the Virginia Military Institute, and on one occasion dined with the boys at the staff table. I never had a more wretchedly cooked and hadly served meal in my life. As a patron of the school and as a well-wisher of the Virginia Military Institute, I feel it my duty to bring these facts to your knowledge, in order that they may be rectified. I have had about five years' experience in feeding large numbers of men at the Virginia paritentiary; that is, in passing

EXTRACT.

Resolved by the Board of Visitors after hyvestigation. That the board is of opinion that the complaint made by Dr. C. V. Carrington of the food furnished cadets is not justified by the facts. The board sees no occasion to at present alter its action taken at the June, 1905, meeting, excent to state at present alter its action taken at the June, 1905, meeting, except to state that the food is neither so well cooked nor served as it should be nor, so unsatisfactory as has been charged; it is doemed advisable to state that there is no just ground for the statement that cadets do not receive sufficient food for proper nour-ishment. All the conditions, now and heretofore, refute such a statement. At the same time it must be distinctly understood that the board is of the opinion that the management of the commissary department is very unsatcommissary department is very unsat-isfactory, and should be promptly recisfactory, and should be promptly rectified, otherwise the department should be reorganized shortly;

I certify that the foregoing is a correct extract from the minutes of the Board of Visitors of the Virginia
Military Institute, October 2, 1968.

W. T. POAGUE,
Secy. Board of Visitors.

Explanation.

Richmond, Va., October 8th.
In order to properly understand the above correspondence between Mr. Hamilton, the president of the Board of Visitors of the Virginia Military Institute, and myself, some little ex-planation is necessary from me.

planation is necessary from me.

Mr. Hamilton, in his letter given above, thanks me for my two letters, one of these is my letter to him as president of the board and the other is a personal letter sent at the same time, in which I call his attention to the fact that only him waiters are provided to serve about two hundred and fifty cadets and I suggest that the number might very properly be increased.

provided to serve about two indicates and fifty cadets and i suggest that the number might very properly be increased.

Now, the Virginia Military Institute is a State institution, and I, as a citizen and as a patron of the institution, have a perfect right to call the attention of the board to any evils that exist in the management, and if they do not heed me and correct the evils, it is my duty to keep shooting at the evils until they are corrected.

I know, as most of my readers will know, that there are no higher, more conscientious gentlemen in the State of Virginia than those who compose the Board of Vistors to the Virginia Military Institute. But boards will be boards to the end of time. They will meet with that "Come, now, gentlemen it is to business quick; I must catch the evening train home in spite of the wise chief, after they have passed some ringing resolutions, eaten dinner and adjourned.

I happen to know that some of our most distinguished members of the Virginia Military Institute board do this very thing. Resolutions passed arrong resolutions condemning the very state of affairs that I brought to their notice. On Sept. 19, 1903, with every courteous and proper intent, I submitted certain facts to the board as to the miserable food conditions at the

the very state of affars that I brought to their notice. On Sept. 19, 1905, with every courteous and proper intent, I submitted certain facts to the board as to the miserable food conditions at the institute. I stood ready to prove those facts if necessiry. Mr. Hamilton in acknowledging my letter admitted my facts and said the board would need in a few days, on Sept. 30th, and then they "would do everything possible to have proper food properly cooleds and served." They met on the thirtietic and the lame and impotent resolution, quoted above, is the result.

Behold! the mountain has brought forth a mouse, and a hibrid mouse, it I may coin the expression, at thatethey resolved that "the complaint made by Dr. Charles V. Carrington, of the food furnished cadets is not justified by the facts" and in the next breath say "It must be distinctly understood that the board is of the opinion that the management of the commissary department is VPRY UNSATISFACTORY and should be promptly rectified, otherwise the department should be reorganized shortly."

For goodness' sake, gentlemen of the board, when does "shortly" come?

SATISFACTORY and should be parament should be reorganized shortly."

For goodness' sake, kentlemen of the board, when does "shortly" come? What space of time does it cover? Mr. Hamilton says "we only reclected the quartermaster until the list of February." so "shortly" must mean February Ist-six months of the session gone then-and when I think of those growing boys sub-facted to six months more of unhealthy food conditions and possibly irreparable damage done to their constitutions I am reminded of the dear old negro mamma who, when asgravated to the limit, closed the argument with these words: "Lord, Master, give me patience."

The board met on September 30th and adjourned on October 2d, Sunday intervening. I only stated facts in my letter, things that I had seen myself, and I was not given the opportunity to substantiate these facts. I stand ready to do so at any time. If I had chosen to given the opportunity in substantiate these facts, I stand ready to do so at any time. If I had chosen to given the opportunity in substantiate these facts, I stand ready to do so at any time. If I had chosen to given the opportunity in substantiate these facts, I stand ready to do so at any time. If I had chosen to given in my letter, some hearsay testimony, the welkin could have been made to ring with stories of mismanascement and improper bappenings. All of this was carefully avoided. I death in facts and can prove my facts, as stated, up to the filt.

I love the dear old Virginia Military Institute with its hallowed associations. No man, who is a true man, can stand in front of Stonewall Jackson mentorial rigil, remembering all that this mere name implies and look at Ezekiel's beautiful work, representing Virginia mourquing for headers of the detths of his soul and long to reach nut and attain better thinss to do and beaths of his soul and long to reach nut and attain better thinss to do and he better.
